

Join us for the Roche-Sponsored Symposium
at EAHAD 2024

The right time to start – what is the evidence for early prophylaxis in haemophilia A?

Wednesday 7 February, 2024 | 14:00–15:15 CET
Panorama Room 2, The Messe Frankfurt, Frankfurt, Germany

Add to Google
calendar

Add to other
calendar

Agenda

What are the current challenges in treating infants with haemophilia A?
Gili Kenet

Examining the evidence for early prophylaxis – exploring the benefits of treating from birth
Carmen Escuriola-Ettingshausen & Gili Kenet

The parents' journey – guiding the family through the first year
Julia Spires & Teresa Pereira

Live Q&A with the audience

Are you curious about joint health within the evolving treatment landscape of haemophilia A?

Discover the latest insights at the Spark educational symposium on Wednesday 7 February from 15:45-17:00 CET in Panorama Room 3.

Join our multidisciplinary faculty

Chair Dr Carmen
Escuriola-Ettingshausen
Haemophilia Centre Rhein Main,
Germany

Nurse Julia Spires
Great Ormond Street
Childrens' Hospital, UK

Teresa Pereira
Portuguese Hemophilia Association,
Portugal

Dr Gili Kenet
Sheba Medical Center,
Israel

This is a non-promotional learning activity sponsored by F. Hoffmann-La Roche Ltd. This meeting is not intended for HCPs practising in the USA and may include scientific information about investigational compounds that are not approved or valid in your jurisdiction.

M-XX-00015645

Date of preparation: December 2023